

Symbolism throughout the NWL Veterans Memorial

SETTING

The Memorial design and setting in the park provide a quiet peaceful area for reflective thoughts about loved ones and the freedoms we enjoy as American citizens. Benches offer a place to sit and reflect upon our inheritance from one generation to the next. Trees surround the Memorial providing shade and natural beauty so prevalent in America's landscape.

NAMES

The names of all veterans who served since the Revolutionary War are engraved in alphabetical order on granite panels that identify the war in which they served. Names are listed without rank or branch of service to embody the common bond each veteran has with each other in the defense of our nation's freedom.

QUOTES

Historical quotes edify our children, neighbors, family and friends of our Founding Fathers vision of freedom for America and the sacrifices by our veterans to preserve our freedom and liberty.

CIRCLE

The circular ring of granite panels with Veterans names from our Nation's birth to the present with blank stones into the future represent the ongoing struggle to preserve our freedom. The circular orientation of the panels symbolizes the continuous protection provided by America's Veterans whose names are inscribed on the surrounding panels. The "spoked" orientation of the panels has no front or back displaying all names in equal setting.

STAR

The white five-pointed star symbolizes our national heritage of individual states on US flags in our nation's growth through history. It symbolizes the highest rank of Generals and Admirals in our military services. Stars are integral on American Insignias and Seals, the Medal of Honor, Silver Star, Bronze Star. The hub of the five points signify the five branches of military service and the Pentagon in Washington DC that serves as our National Defense headquarters.

FLAG

The center of the Memorial features the American Flag that all of our Veterans fought under and followed, through battles and wars, to preserve and protect the Constitution and our freedom.
